Never found an answer, never found a reason There was no talk back 'cause you could never take back
Different conversation, little adulation
Took you to the bath house, waiting at the entrance

I hope that we will never forget, seeing sinners of the night
I hope that we will never regret, seeing sinners of the night
'Cause we can not, can't ever, no we can not, take it back, no

I walk into the bedroom, waiting for the master
It's simple understanding, I talk you understand me (oooh ooh oooh)
We'll wait until it's over, we knew they would be unfair

I hope that we will never forget, seeing sinners of the night
I hope that we will never regret, seeing sinners of the night
'Cause we can not, can't ever, no we can not, take it

Now here we are, another voice from the afterlife.
Who are we now? We know we're alive.
I call you out, it's never why we were left behind.
The sun creates a different escape while we're still alive.

Now we'll go and know the answers are with us now Console yourself, we already cried, Do we know too much? Are these pieces meant to be side by side?
I held my breath, you close your eyes, before the dive!
