Well I know they say all good things, must come to some kind of ending.

We were so damn good, I guess we never stood a chance.

Go on and find what you've been missing,
And when that highway's tired of listenin'.
You'll see I'm not that easy to forget.

And when a new moon shines through your window,
Or you hear a sad song on the radio,
And you don't know why, but you just start to cry.
Or you're drivin' 'round on a sunny day,
And out of no where comes a pourin' rain,
And a memory hits you right out of the blue.
That's just me, thinkin' of you.

I'm not gonna try to stop you,
Doesn't mean that I don't want you.
If I know you, you've already made up your mind.
So go on, go if you're really leavin'.
Put a million miles between us,
But you still feel me like I'm right there at your side.

And when a new moon shines through your window,
Or you hear a sad song on the radio,
And you don't know why, but you just start to cry.
Or you're drivin' 'round on a sunny day,
And out of no where comes a pourin' rain,
And a memory hits you right out of the blue.
That's just me, thinkin' of you.

And I'm thinkin' about the road you're on.
I'm thinkin' about you comin' home.
I'm a'wonderin' if you've got your radio on.

And when you find your way to another town,
And someone tries to let you down,
And a feelin' hits you right out of the blue.
It's me, thinkin' of you.
That's just me, thinkin' of you.
