I know your somewhere in the crowd tonight
I can only hope your singing out loud
A thousand faces filling empty spaces
A hundred miles and all the while

Surrounded by clones
Still all alone
Your not standing in the crowd
Can you still hear me
Singing out loud
Your not standing in the crowd

It's been a while since I've seen you smile
If I come back, do I have a home?
Empty smiles and a thousand miles
A million people and I'm still alone

Surrounded by clones
Still all alone
Your not standing in the crowd
Can you still hear me
Singing out loud
Your not standing in the crowd

You watched me leave you and I didn't believe you
The wait was too long, and our hearts were wrong
I'm easy to see through and I never deceived you
The slate's finally clean now

Surrounded by clones
Still all alone
Your not standing in the crowd
Can you still hear me
Singing out loud
Your not standing in the crowd
