Do you remember when you held my hand when I said sometimes I cry in the dark?

Do you remember that day when you said "It's gonna be OK" to a little boy who fell down in the park?

You're the best in the world, don't ever change your ways

You can make me laugh on the roughest days
And you got those eyes that shine like the skies
And a smile that can light up the city

I said "I wish I could go on an adventure, without even hesitating let's go"

There were Pop Tarts and shooting stars and the world was ours

At least until we had to get home.

You're the best in the world, don't ever change your
ways

You make me laugh on the roughest days
And you got those eyes that shine like the skies
And a smile that can light up the city

It's the way that my head falls on your shoulder Natural, like the days getting colder.

When you called me late one night, and I said
"Kid, you're gonna be alright"

You're the best in the world, don't ever change your
ways

You make me laugh on the roughest days
And you got those eyes that shine like the skies
And a smile that can light up the city
Light up the city, yeah
Don't leave, don't leave, don't leave me
