"A Crying Statue"

I died today and no one even noticed
I was almost sure you saw
But no reaction
Stop being so mechanical she said
Without ever noticing the program in her head
I took the blame
Accepted what she said
Wouldn't want to stir things up
Just because i'm dead

I tried last night though no one thought I ought to
I was almost sure it could have worked
But fate thought otherwise
Stop being so mechanical she said
Without ever noticing the program in her head
I took the blame
Accepted what she said
Wouldn't want to stir things up
Just because i'm dead

It's just a statue
From stone it is made
Raised to scare all evil away
Evil don't care
They laugh at it's face
Just like me it's a dying race
