Before you point the finger
And hope the whole thing dissapears
Remember empty words will fall
And fall upon the deafest ears

he won't give in without a fight
And foul play without a doubt
No silver lining to be seen
In this thundercloud
Oh tha't's not allowed

In the ideal world
We'd be free to choose
But in my real world
You can't bat we're going to lose

Your money fills your pockets
Fear fills their tiny minds
At last the world is talking now
This ain't no way to treat mankind
A sudden blackout stops the show
But doesn't stop the way I am
'Cause all my life I've been oppressed
You're not the first to say I am
I do all I can

For an Ideal world
Where we're free to choose
But in my real world
You can't bat we're going to lose

We could be free forever
If they would only change
But fools never change
Ohno, no

A peak of blue in the sky
A song of hope, a noble thought
But how long must the people die
Before the guilty ones spare a thought

For an Ideal world
Where we're free to choose
For an ideal world
And we're no longer born to lose

In the ideal wordl
We could start again
Now in my real world
Let's put an end to suffering
End suffering

In the ideal world
We're now free to choose
We are safe to air our views

In the ideal wordl
We could start again
Now in my real world
It matters not about the coulor of your skin

Ideal world
Free to choose
Ideal world
Oh, there much a man can do

Ideal world
Start againideal world
We're going to start again
