[Verse 1]

Oh baby, one day I began to love you People kept making fun of our relationship
But I didn't care, you were my valentine We bought each other something and that something is a gift
Then one day we had an argue and I broke up with you
Now you aren't with me anymore You've, you've, you've, you've become friends with another person

[Chorus]

Baby, would you get the angry feeling out of your system
Come on let's take a picture of you and me
To remember we were together once in our lives
When I was your man, I complimented you always on your looks I always loved you for your dance moves and your looks
You looked so beautiful that you controlled my heart
Baby, will we ever get back together again?
Or will you stay with your friend?

[Verse 2: Ed Sheeran]

Oh baby, can we dance together tonight?
People loved us for our talents
But we broke up one day all because of an argument We could've earned money when we're older because we have such great talent
Then I told you, "you were hot"
Now you aren't with me anymore
You've, you've, you've, you've become friends with
another person

[Chorus]

Baby, would you get the angry feeling out of your
system
Come on let's take a picture of you and me
When I was your man, I complimented you always on

your looks
I always loved you for your dance moves and your
You looked so beautiful that you controlled my heart
Baby, will we ever get back together again?
Or will you stay with your friend?

Baby, would you get the angry feeling out of your
system
Come on let's take a picture of you and me

When I was your man, I complimented you always on
your looks
I always loved you for your dance moves and your
You looked so beautiful that you controlled my heart

When I was your man
When I was your man
When I was your man
When I was your man

[Chorus]
Baby, would you get the angry feeling out of your
system
Come on let's take a picture of you and me
To remember we were together once in our lives
When I was your man, I complimented you always on
your looks
I always loved you for your dance moves and your
You looked so beautiful that you controlled my heart
Baby, will we ever get back together again?
Or will you stay with your friend?
