

Buckley Jeff

"Gunshot Glitter"

Visit "Gunshot Glitter" on MotoLyrics.com don't you wanna let go of your heart or you resist the beds of bliss

fortune makes fools of us all my dear materialista, silence was insane,
the parting was mutual don't' you want the rocket to rock out? there's a room for us both to fly.
tell the man i'm never coming back again.
tell the man i'm never coming back again.
why should you notice at all?

gone again beside you will fall down to the sea out of the skies of gold cards and casual tears i have only come to see you shine feminine smiles
the right side is wise, and organized i wanna be your lover.

lipstick my name across your mirror blood red with flaked gunshot glitter and be one with all your disown in your young life you paranoia politician diva you paranoia politician diva will you let go your heart, left behind a hypnotising swirl

the semi's left behind. don't you want to rocket it to rock?
there's room for both of us to fly same show everyday, don't have to bow up the sky.
so i just came from hick town left my coins behind maybe some poor clone's gonna buy himself a line why should you care if i crash your affair? why should you notice me? i really wanna see you shine i wanna be your lover

lipstick my name across your mirror now, be one with all you disown.

Visit Buckley Jeff page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

