Another day is over. The sun has gone down. I'd drive so much further to see you. Winding canyon drive, stars and yellow lines lead the way to where this rock ends And the sea begins. You're just passed my defenses. I'm just this far from the edge. I don't walk off cliffs in the darkness. I find my way down to find you-Can't know what I will find. Fire. Water. And the edge of the world. And a girl. Let's make a devil in the sand-Pumpkinseed teeth and seaweed antlers. Another day is over-I'm going
