I started this journey open ended
Only one question in mind
Scared that the road might end abruptly
Invisible signs pass by

Now that I know where I am headed
It's easier said than done

Spray off the windshield, wipe your worries
Throw out the map and the rest
Stars take the place of the brand new compass
Water means life will reside

Now that I know where I am headed
It's easier said than done
Worlds apart though still connected
I feel it inside my heart

Never lift a finger
Never throw an anchor
Maybe light a candle
I'm alright

Help me solve the puzzle
Indicate the answer
Maybe a life jacket

Open the book to find these pages empty
I'm on my own

Now that I know where I am headed
It's easier said than done
Worlds apart though still connected
I feel it inside my heart

Now that I know where I am headed
It's easier said than done
Worlds apart though still connected
I feel it inside my heart

Maybe a life jacket
