"When Breath Escapes"

Visit "When Breath Escapes" on MotoLyrics.com

Now life has ended
Played all the cards that have been handed
And now eternity has a whole new meaning

With it's no end and no beginning
A heart comes to its last ticking
Its blood feels like it's thickening

And its mind can't stop thinking
When life flashes before it, will it like what it sees
Or will it wish to have done other things?

And the regret will only add more to the flames' pain

As breath escapes, the heart

As breath escapes, the heart beats slower
Soon, the nightmare will be over, or will it just begin?
As once again eternity sinks in
Life's last strength grips the deathbed

Below then digs itself in
I guess the understanding of life after death
Comes with the absence of breath
