i thought you cared on our last day i was wrong
no one will ever know about the dirty games that we played.
ill take a plane out of here on monday.

now as the ferris wheel spins for me i hate the view the lonely carousel is boring i run out to no sign of you i never left you you broke me from the start you never meant to tear my life apart

i never wanted all your sympathy but thats all you'll get from me and on your doorstep i left roses for you to find as this theme park finally closes a smile, it lights up the sky now i write letters in the dark im afraid of who you are im stupid, im selfish, im a mess i have built an understanding that when i wake ill be forever alone in this bed.
