I think, he's the answer, to everything
I wish, I was his blanket, or his bed
Maybe, even his pillow, beneath his restless head
I wish i was a lucky girl that, he kissed goodnight and
he could
Hold me tight and it would just feel right

When the grief sets in
It's overpowering it's frustrating
And the only time that I'm happy is when I'm with him
Without him...Oh...Yeah

Feelin' down, feelin' lonely... Again
But why, even say 'cause no one listens anyway

I wish i was a lucky girl that, he kissed goodnight and
he could
Hold me tight and it would just feel right

When the grief sets in
It's overpowering it's frustrating
And the only time that I'm happy is when I'm with him

When the grief sets in
It's overpowering it's frustrating
And the only time that I'm happy is when I'm with him

When the grief sets in
It's overpowering it's frustrating
And the only time that I'm happy is when I'm with him

And the only time that I'm happy is when I'm with him
