Careless whispers drifting by the ears
Trust in no one, silence broken by careless whispers

You've got a lot to say, but I'm not listening
And I've got a lot to say, that your ears are not hearing

Back and forth, how much time can we waste?
Hold your tongue and swallow hard, how much more can we take? Yeah

So who are you? Who am I?
Who are you? What have we become?

Careless whispers drifting by the ears
Trust in no one, silence broken by careless whispers

You've got a lot to learn, so are you listening now, now, now?

Now the word is out, it's written on everyone's face Hold your tongue and swallow hard, so how does the truth taste
Weren't you listening?

Trust in no one, no one
