Sorrow sings
her kisses in silence and adjusts the blinds to keep the light from mocking everything I feel She dances slowly a silhouette upon the curtains but her eyes seem to cry only empty tears
I beg for comfort with inadequate verse it meant so much to me...and so little to her and I am sinking into a mountain of self pity why can't I simply disregard all the things I feel?

"where is my angel (x3) when I need him most?"
"tell me now where did he go?"
