Got lost inside some days
Tired words dragged me down
All around some kind of disarray
Near stranger to my own
Got a need to get out of this place
Pretty darling won't you lead me by the hand
And help me find a way

Take me down out of this dirty town
To where the roadsides bloom
Take me down out of this dirty town
To where the air is sweet perfume
Take me down, to where the day is lost
And the night is found
To where the silence sounds.

Wanna listen to the songs of yesterday
Close my eyes and let them in Wanna hear the breathing of the waves
Drawing out, and crashing in Wanna watch the kids playing in the sand
Chase them down to the edges of the ocean
And gather them in my arms

So take me down out of this dirty town
To where the roadsides bloom
Take me down out of this dirty town
To where the air is sweet perfume
Take me down, to where the day is lost
And the night is found
To where the silence sounds,
Where the silence sounds.

And when we get there darling you know everything will be OK
We can walk on the edges of the world and you know, you know we'll find our way
And when we talk without words
I wanna throw away the rocks, cast of this distant skin
I wanna lay down, wanna lay down beside you, and I wanna let you in

So take me down out of this dirty town
To where the roadsides bloom
Take me down out of this dirty town
To where the air is sweet perfume
Take me down, to where the day is lost
And the night is found
Take me down to where the silence sounds
