I'm full of good intentions like I never was before it's too late for prevention but I don't think it's too late for the cure so you call in your minions see what you can find night time or morning these hands are sticky but I don't mind why must you always be around?

why can't you just leave it be?
it's done nothing so far but destroy my life you cause as much sorrow dead
as you did when you were alive

I never said I was though that was everyone else so you're a fool to attack me for the image that you built yourself it just sounds more vicious then I actually mean I really am soft tender + sweet

why must you always be around?
why can't you just leave me be?
you've done nothing so far but destory my life

(repeat)
