The show, it's your boy Sullee J, yeah, listen

Feeling like the world is shadowing the conscious Drowning in my thoughts, I'm battling the monsters Dark within the mind I'm fathoming the cost of Every single rhyme is a pattern that I'm lost in Developing adrenaline, medicine for the conscious
Trying to get to heaven but hell is a quicker process
Pedaling this blessing I'm meddling without caution
Secular predators trenching out proportion
Reverends to reference evidence so irrelevant
Piling up the leverage
Hesitant to be evident, Charging up the infidels, generalizing messages
Etiquette unethical,
Clever,... so devilish
Epithet and effortless, intrepid
For the negligent
Trying to reach a deficit definitive they so pessimist I'ma be the virus infecting all the reckless Wrecking with the method of, spiritual genesis

It must be a reason, that I'm alive
And it must be a reason, that I survived
Said it must be a reason, a meaning of why
I'm still here breathing, reaching for the sky X 2

Revelations

Chemical imbalances, mentally invalid I'm tripping on psychedelics, afflicting my hypothalamus
Back from the dead, I'm getting rid of the malices
... omitting all these vatican president and them savages
Living in a world with ignorance and paralysis
Lazy individuals habits is forming mavericks...
Ghetto mentality, crack in imported packages
Trying to find a way out without the way to average
I'm back for the soul of dajjal... in the form of a light
... bestowed thru Allah, in the storm I'm a lightning

Strike with a frightening
... burst in the night I ignite thru a Vikings curse I'm the tip of the sword I'm the barrel on a gat
I'm equipped with the lord,
And His heroin in fact
I'm a wizard with the wisdom initially I'm a stack
I'm a sign b4 the wrath of divinity attacks

It must be a reason, that I'm alive
And it must be a reason, that I survived
Said it must be a reason, a meaning of why
I'm still here breathing, reaching for the sky X 2
