Everybody preys in the wounds
I don't care, but I wish that I would
She's the sun when I'm rain
But it was all ugly shouting again

All the while I breathe in pain
That's how I know all our secrets
Went down on all our friends
They say the same, that I'm changing again

Everybody preys in the wounds
I don't care, but I wish that I would
She's the sun when I'm rain
But it was nothing but shouting again

I wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
I wanted to write something true
I wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
Saw something real but only came up with
Lies, lies, lies, lies

The same town that killed this life
Better turn down the same eyes
That spit on their floors
With the same, mine and yours

I wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
I wanted to write something true
I wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
Saw something real but only came up with

Lies, lies, lies, lies
Lies!
