It's been a long time
What can you say about you
Don't even ask, I'm doing fine
Now see with me, don't need anything
Been doing everything, I wish you could see

Same ol', just a different day

I'll say what's on my mind
'Cause you don't have a clue
It's great for me
Now more than it ever could

There's a reason for me to smile
Who you are is not worth my time

Lemme say that everything I believed
I no longer want to be
Not asking you to stay, just keeping going away
Don't try so hard, try to keep some self-regard
No more asking for your love
No more asking for your love

I wanted to erase and forget about our love
Go live the lies you call a life

Same ol', just a different day
It's time to walk away

My heads up, staying strong, see my smile, moving on Every word you said is, is dead and gone
Is it really a surprise I don't need you?

Memories fade away, go live the lies you call a life
