Dont save me

Im not the one you should be looking out for

Dont save me

I know its a lot to ask

But dont save me

This can make things way too complicated

Dont save me

I know I can make it on my own
Sometimes I like to think about you

And the words that come out your mouth

When things get rough

I wouldnt want to take another step forward, look

Can you tell me? Are you eager? Are you ready to call it love?

Can you feel it? Do you mean it? Can we burn this down?

Can we burn this down?
If I can ask a simple question

About the way that you call my name

Its so appealing, its deceiving

So come back another day?

Can we play this? Delay this? Or maybe find another way?

Do you mean it? Believe me? Can we burn this down?

Dont save me

Im not the one you should be looking out for

Dont save me

I know its a lot to ask

But dont save me

This can make things way too complicated

Dont save me

I know I can make it on my own

(ohh, ohh) Make it on my own

I know I said that Id be waiting

But the truth remains the same

The way you run could drive me crazy

Girl, you better not turn away

Put your guard down

The lights out, keep your feet flat on the ground

No more waiting around

Dont save me

Im not the one you should be looking out for

Dont save me

I know its a lot to ask

But dont save me

This can make things way too complicated

Dont save me

I know I can make it on my own

Baby, I got to make it on my own (Hey!) 2x

Dont save me

Im not the one you should be looking out for

Dont save me

I know its a lot to ask

But dont save me

This can make things way too complicated

Dont save me

I know I can make it on my own
