Did you smile when you made the moon and gave the sky it's color?

Did Creation dance in rythm to your song of life I wonder?

Did the angels know you knew my name before I existed?

Did you tell them out of all you made

why you gave me your image?

Is it true I'm your heartbeat

and you love me more than anything?

What sacred Delight

What infinite wonder

That I'm precious in your site

You love me like no other, no other

Sacred Delight

Did you think of me the day you died that I would dare intend this?

Did you know one day I'd come to you in search of your forgiveness?

Is it true I'm your heartbeat

and you chose to die than to live without me?

What sacred delight

what infinite wonder

That I'm precious in your site.

You love me like no other, no other

Sacred Delight
