Old long golden dress slides on
I am ready and await transmission of faith
And love to all those gathered here today
In this holy place.
The cross is signed, first prayer intoned
Then dizziness comes,
And trembling overwhelms my arms and legs.
I have to leave and escape this assembly
In the back room realm.
I can't breathe, fear rises
As I stare at my face in the old stained mirror
The truth comes, I realize
Life is not eternal, I realize
And I am betrayed by the wrinkles in the reflection.
I fall on my knees before three O lord!
I try to keep faith in three O lord!
In the name of the father, the son and body spirit...
