Your eyes are greater than ever but you are as empty as the bottle of wine you've already poured out

Your bed is where you take cover and you wanna wash your clothes 'cause they're so full of smoke and perfume in the sense of your girlfriend but now as I watch you parade I wish you only once look my way

Oh, gravity
come on, make me happy
so I won't sing anymore, don't let me sing
anymore

You play your card so thoroughly but you are so empty that it's easy to see right through you You talk so sincerely but I know your sentences Our beautiful truth but unmistakable fairytales and now as I try to be strong I find myself writing to you a song

so I won't sing anymore
anymore x2
