

City Drive, The "West Coast Wind"

Visit "West Coast Wind" on MotoLyrics.com

Put your pain aside;
it's not the end of time
from where I'm standing.

You get so high
when you come undone,
But don't unwind without me.

The west coast wind tonight
is back and bringing its thunder.
When is it over?

You've beat this before
and you can once more,
'cause you're not stranded.

Kiss goodbye the shadow you're under.
Believe in time you'll get free.

The west coast wind tonight
is back and bringing its thunder.
When is it over?
We'll break out of this place.
You know I'll take you away
'til it is over.

You wanna give up and run away,
but you'll only make it if you stay.
But before you can reach that dream,
you'd better believe the storm's coming on.
Storm is coming on,
storm is coming on...

The west coast wind tonight
is back again bringing thunder.
When is it over?
We'll break out of this place.
You know I'll take you away
'til it is over.

