

Civil Wars, The "Girl With The Red Balloon"

Visit "Girl With The Red Balloon" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a pub on the South side of town
Time stands still while there's still wine around
She's the one in the Calico
The one who's always and never alone

Did she let him go or did the four winds blow him away
Oh does she even know
She's the girl with the red balloon

Keep her glass full of cheap champagne
She will tell of a man with no name Smoke and mirrors have done her in She's in love and she won't be again

Oh did she let him go or did the four winds blow him
away
Oh does she even know
She's the girl with the red balloon

So lovely
So lonely
Floating away

Oh did she let him go or did the four winds blow him
away
Oh does she even know

Oh did she let him go or did the four winds blow him
away
Oh does she even know
She's the girl
She's the girl with the red balloon

Visit Civil Wars, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.