Your burning me down in my icy lake of sorrow take me and make a swan See the shadow of my obsession

???
I feel this lost u take away, away
In this life I feel lust for you All those times
I've been praying for your love
In your eyes
I see love and innocence
But still I do not know am i wanting you still I want your touch are you wanting me do you want to be we are lost in our own paradise come on follow my words and we will fly

we are lost in our own paradise

no ones above the one we should love if love is for real i might believe but if love is not for real why wont you take me far away
