Pretty girl of 16 has fun and runs crazy
Ruined girl of 16 now a mother grows lazy
Next a 16 year old baby like mother grows lazy
And her stomach is churning whilst her eyes keep on turning

Round and around, round and around
Getting no higher from the ground
Round and around, round and around
The circle has an empty sound

Father inflicts discipline, boy rebels against him
He leaves for the big town for love and adventure
But the words he first heard unlike his instincts run deeper
Now boy beats his children if they disobey him
And the cat riddled with worms chases his tail

Round and around, round and around
Getting no higher from the ground
Round and around, round and around
This circle has an empty sound

The endless full circle for the next in line
The endless full circle
Take the red line, the green line
The silver or blue

Any line you can think of except for the yellow
Take a trip with your family and see where they go
Give them a free ticket it's the best thing to do

And if you wind up on the circle line
Hell, it's not from lack of options
Then if you run into the yellow
Well that's up to you

Round and around, round and around
Getting no higher from the ground
Round and around, round and around
The circle has an empty sound
The circle has an empty sound

Round and around, round and around
Round and around, round and around
Round and around, round and around

And go round
And go round

The endless full circle for the next in line
The endless full circle are you the next in line

Round and around and around and around
Round and around and around and around
Round and around and around and around
And around
