There's a place where I can go
There's a place in my mind
Lock the doors and think slowly
About the good things in life

No more meaningless tasks that I abhor
No more fights within myself, no more war

In this secret place free from sorrow
Free from glamour
Need more time to waste
In my hidden manor

And when I'm lost in entropy
When the time is just right
Unify my decisions
And retreat from the night

Try as hard as I can to justify
Why I learn what I've learned to get me by

In this secret place free from sorrow
Free from glamour
Need more time to waste
In my hidden manor, my hidden manor

In this secret place free from sorrow
Free from glamour
Need more time to waste
In my hidden manor, my hidden manor, my hidden manor

There's a place where I can go
On a path where we can grow
And in this silence finally know
What all this is for
What this is all for
In my hidden manor
