When your universe crashes down
There's nothing left but ashes full of frowns
I don't care if your hope has died
I'll be there but never by your side

What is this world coming to?
You always think that you are screwed
Violence to propagate, intelligence to hate

If you never quite always fail
With your politicians old and fat as whales
These hypocrites won't last for long
But only if they're proven wrong
If you never quite always mend
With your freedoms burning at both ends
We kill ourselves if we always hinder
Not with a bang but with a whimper

And I still say that I'll help you
Am I your friend or am I lying too?
Wondering about if more people died
Time is now but it isn't on your side
What is this world coming to?
You always think that you are screwed
Violence to propagate, intelligence to hate

If you never quite always fail
With your politicians old and fat as whales
These hypocrites won't last for long
But only if they're proven wrong
If you never quite always mend
With your freedoms burning at both ends
We kill ourselves if we always hinder
Not with a bang but with a whimper
With a whimper

Sadistic people think it's fun
Exploiting suckers one by one
Taking from the poor, duping simple minds
Bombing the innocent
So many tears we've spilled and spent

If you never quite always fail
With your politicians old and fat as whales
These hypocrites won't last for long
But only if they're proven wrong
If you never quite always mend
With your freedoms burning at both ends
We kill ourselves if we always hinder
Not with a bang but with a whimper
With a whimper

It seems we never quite always
