Symfonia
"Blame"

When I felt lonely
It was the only way
To satisfy my hunger
Through my wounded vein
In deep frustration I had
To escape from my old life
Built on mistakes...
Oh, I had to run away...

I?m sorry for all the
Pain I caused you
Where I was before...
You are not the one to blame...
I love you so...
I had to go my own way
Deep down you know
You were the one who saved me...

Forced to recover
Against all odds
Covered in glory,
Didn?t help at all...
Surrender, for survival
And break the habits
Addiction to grace made me
Lose it...

I?m sorry for all the
Pain I caused you
Where I was before...
You are not the one to blame...
I love you so...
I had to go my own way
Deep down you know
You were the one who saved me...

You waited for affection
Cried yourself to sleep at night
But you never stopped believing in me
?Though you saw my life
Fading away...

I?m sorry for all the
Pain I caused you
Where I was before...
You are not the one to blame...
I love you so...
I had to go my own way
Deep down you know
You were the one who saved me...
