"Falling Apart"

Too late tonight
No time for yesterday
Through morning light
You feel I'm drifting away
And you know that I'll be coming your way
To carry on what we started today
Deep in your heart
You know, you know, you know, you know it

Don't go falling apart
I'll be coming home soon
There's not a day I don't think of you
Just remember
Our love will get us through

Another time, another place
But it all just feels the same, yeah
All I see is your face, everywhere, in everything

And you know that I'll be coming your way
To carry on what we started today
Deep in your heart
You know you, you know, you know, you know it

Another time, another place, yeah

Too late tonight
No time for yesterday
Through morning light
You feel I'm drifting away, drifting away, drifting away
