Hey now, the storm is overhead
I can't believe the words you said
Somehow I missed the point that we were only friends
To me it seems that I've been blind
To you it's all so well defined
Now here I sit my hands, holding up my head

It should have been me
That made it with you
Sadly all my dreams turned blue
It should have been me
That made it with you
I ignored all of your clues

Hey now, there must have been a time
When I was more than border line
But who's to blame, emotions somehow get misread
I hate to bring it up again
I won't let go, I can't defend
But what's the use if we, constantly pretend

It should have been me
That made it with you
Sadly all my dreams turned blue
It should have been me
That made it with you
But that's not your point of view

Hey now you must have left behind
I painted a picture and a rhyme
You painted me into the corner of your mind
So sad you won't be coming back
So close the curtain, fade to black
So long, this time has passed, I'm here for you to find

It should have been me
That made it with you
Sadly all my dreams turned blue
It should have been me
That made it with you
But my dream turned shades of blue
