Darling if you leave then you should run cause you are not a teenager, anymore you won't be looking back for very long you're bright like the stars you have nothing to wait for cause out of hundreds and thousands of stars i see you shining like the sun
i think that you're the brightest one darling if you stay at home all day feeding your baby but hardly yourself you won't be looking up for very long when friends don't call back all you can change is your heart
cause out of hundreds and thousands of stars
i see you shining like the sun
baby if you leave then you should run or maybe you are right where you belong but you are worth so much more than this
i see you shining like the sun
