I can't stop killing songs you like
You look at me with eyes
That could beat the sunrise in a contest, no question

We'll talk to all the others
And bring me back to earth
I'm thankful for your mother
For what it's worth

All all the memories we've had
Framed in our minds like photographs
Take a second take a second and make this last
Here where the future meets the past
I could never fall in love again
I could never fall in love again

I cant stop moving cause ill feel dead
Give me a second and ill turn into a year that you wont forget

We'll make them read our stories
Yeah we'll make them eat their words
We'll make their lives seem boring
For what it's worth

All all the memories we've had
Framed in our minds like photographs
Take a second take a second and make this last
Here where the future meets the past
I could never fall in love again
I could never fall in love again

I'll drink your poison and say
"I'm still not going away"
I'll swallow all your bombs and grenades [grenades]
And love you like a tsunami wave [wave wave wave]

All all the memories we've had
Framed in our minds like photographs
Take a second take a second and make this last
Here where the future meets the past

I could never fall in love again
I could never fall in love again

All all the memories
Framed in our minds
Take a second take a second and make this last
Here for a while
I could never fall in love again
I could never fall in love again

All all the memories
Framed in our minds
Take a second take a second and make this last
Here for a while
I could never fall in love again
I could never fall in love again again
