Three years in May, since I woke up
And you opened up to me
A year and two months now since we broke up
But you were holding on for me

Every now and then I think
Can't believe you're here
You made me strong, you made me whole
A lion sleeps inside your soul

How much I needed, nobody knows
How much you saved, I'm amazed
You have made me more than this
Never wanted more than this
How much I wanted, nobody knows

Hip your mind to the beats and the story
'Cause there's a lesson in this thing
I would lie and believe what I'm saying
My pride was a hurting thing

Every now and then I cry
For the joy you bring
You helped me change, you helped me know
A lion sleeps inside my soul

How much I needed, nobody knows
How much you saved, I'm amazed
You have made me more than this
Never wanted more than this
How much I wanted, nobody

All this time the roads been winding
So much was crazy hurting myself
No one accepts this world could be heaven
Fighting each other and leaving again

Three years in May, since I woke up
And you opened up to me
A year and two months now since we broke up
But you were holding on

How much I needed, nobody knows
How much you saved, I'm amazed
You have made me more than this
I never wanted more than this
How much I wanted, nobody knows

How much I needed, nobody knows
How much you saved, I'm amazed
You have made me more than this
I never wanted more than this
How much I wanted, baby, nobody knows, nobody knows
