Hear the rattle
Change is coming
Baby could you leave me something
Hold me till I cannot breathe
I'll wake to feel you're gone

Well I don't mind this at all
You said that I'd be better off
To find another love

Life's been kinder to me, I will wait this time
'Cause this is stronger than you think
I will stay to show you something the world is missing
It's hiding under the shame and wishing
We could finish all that's been undone

Wrap around it, break it open
Push it down the stairs or something
This is what we've come here for
To open wide the change

Well some believe in suffering
Keep the lock and toss the key
It's better, easier and all

Life's been kinder to me, I will wait this time
'Cause this is stronger than you think
And I will stay to show you something the world is missing
It's hiding under the shame and wishing
We could finish all that's been undone

Well I don't mind this at all
You said that I'd be better off
To find another love

Life's been kinder to me, I will wait this time
'Cause this is stronger than you think
And I will stay to show you something the world is missing
It's hiding under the shame and wishing
We could finish all that's been undone

Had been undone
All the shame and wishing Shame and wishing
