Hope is hard to find, when you don't know what you're looking for And you're consistently behind, thinking there must be something more
And everything is changing, but you still feel the same
You don't know what you're doing with your life or so it seems You're full of suppressed feelings, a soul bursting at the seams
And everything is changing, but you still feel the same

And before you know, you're getting old, and losing

But life keeps marching on and on And you're hung up on things you haven't done
And all you have now are regrets
And you're heavy with emotional debts
To the ones you love

And before you know, you're getting old, and losing
With all the things that mean the most
And your life is full of ghosts
And you're weathering a loss in your heart
And your body's falling apart

But we're safe tonight as we celebrate this life

And before you know, you're getting old, and losing
With all the things that mean the most
And with a lump in your throat, you cry That you lived your life well, and honestly, and with an open heart
