Did you ever stop to think before you react
That what really sets you off
Is really in your own head
It's amazing to me
What a paranoid freak you can really be
But i got my own back
I got your little message on aol
I got your little message on aol
I think i heard this before/ i think i knew this before
I think i felt you before
I know i don't anymore
Darling you've got to lose your princess
Darling you've got to lose your princess
Darling you've got to lose your princess
Tendencies, whoa
Did you ever stop to think
You might need a little help
And what you say about me
Is a reflection of yourself
Oh i've never been the type
To call out the dogs of war
But i think you hung yourself
With a velvet rope
Go ahead use my name for your industry
Chat all your internet trash all you
White collar crap
Just don't cry about your virtual life
Don't lie about your sacrifice
It was all about you
Who do you think you're gonna fool?
It had nothing to do with me
I got your little message on aol.....
