"Butterfly"

i was a caterpillar
i was warm
i was soft
i was long

like the lies i told myself
to keep myself alive
like the lies i told myself
to keep myself alive

i dodged the foot of one strange man after another
i was never good at finding a good lover

to keep myself alive
like the lies i told myself
to keep myself alive

no one can set you free

you get your wings
when you learn how to dance i've danced for such a long time but i never learned the steps

to keep myself alive
like the lies i told myself
