I had a dream I died last night, I felt the cold on my face Couldn't seem to realize, can not get a hold of this place, help me

I felt the cold rocks pierce my back, suddenly a man appears in black I feel my soul begin to break, and all I can do is scream, help me

Just free my soul, let me free, don't take this life, from within me
Just free my soul, let me free, and take this all away,
from my memories

Help me, help me, help me, help me And take this all away, and take this all away, and take this all away
From my memories

From the demons I will loathe, unfortunately it's too late, as my soul begins
To break, all I can do is scream god help me, just free my soul, let be Breathe, don't take this life, from within me,
Just free my soul, let me free, and take this all away,
from my memories
