

Six Ball "Together And Apart"

Visit "Together And Apart" on MotoLyrics.com

They come from different worlds,
And are on the same earth,
They both live in two worlds,
On one they're together,
On the other they're apart.
They both love each other,
Yet they have never met.
One talks, but doesn't hear the other.
They look at each other,
But they don't see each other.
They are joy and sorrow,
They are past and future,
They are the same and are different,
They are together and apart,
They are joy and sorrow,
They are past and future,
They are the same and are different,
They are together and apart,
They come from different worlds,
And are on the same earth,
They both live in two worlds,
On one they're together,
On the other they're apart.
They are joy and sorrow,

They are past and future,
Together and Apart
They are joy and sorrow,
They are past and future,
They are the same and are different,
They are together and apart,
They come from different worlds,
And are on the same earth,
They both live in two worlds,
On one they're together,
On the other they're apart.
They are joy and sorrow,
They are past and future,
They are the same and are different,
They are together and apart,
They come from different worlds,
And are on the same earth,

They both live in two worlds,
On one they're together,
On the other they're apart.
They are joy and sorrow,
They are past and future,
Together and Apart
