mysteries unfolding quickly before my eyes in a way i saw the world in one night without even leaving with out even leaving the room golden cymbals catching light the flowing veils of dancers in the night put me in a swoon beating drums and violins so mystical and freeing these things that I'm seeing they're so wonderful oh the world is such a big place and you have redeemed it you have redeemed it no reason to be afraid you have redeemed it you have redeemed us all culture after culture flash before my eyes the semi-closed mind is now evident help me to remember this world is yours you gave you life to bring the wayward back to you the wayward back to you the wayward back to you
