

Six Pence None The Richer "Too Far Gone"

Visit "Too Far Gone" on MotoLyrics.com

I built these walls with blinders on my eyes
Brick by brick and now I realize
That I'm shut out, I'm shut in
And every time I try to reach out I reach in
I break my fingers on the bricks
Why do I do this to myself?
There is really no one else to blame

So could you reach down and pull me out
Or am I just too far gone to be saved?
Or am I just too far gone to be saved?

I take my falls, hands pulled behind my back
You made the knot and didn't leave much slack
Now I'm tied up, I'm tied down
Now every time I try to fly up, I fly down
Into the sea and hold my breath
I am a mirrored rumble fish
Life is so clenching for the kill

So could you reach down and break my will
Or am I just too far gone to be saved?
Or am I just too far gone to be saved?

I'm shut out, I'm shut in
And every time is try to reach out reach in
I break my fingers on the bricks
Now every time I try to fly up, I fly down
Into the sea and hold my breath
I am a mirrored rumble fish
Life is so clenching for the kill

So could you reach out and pull me out
Or am I just too far gone?
You'll never be too far gone
You'll never be too far gone to be saved

Visit Six Pence None The Richer page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.