I am alone, so loneliness follows me
Night and day
A friend that I can't push away

What you told me and what is the truth
Well, they break my heart
But they are still miles apart

If I see the light when I'm falling asleep
Will I come to life if you call me? (will you come to me if I call you?)
You move the ground that's under my feet
Will I know the sound when you call me (down)

This side of happiness
I dream of something else
Somewhere new
Somewhere I'll know what to do

I'm alone so loneliness follows me
Just like the wind
Blowing me over again

If I see the light when I'm falling asleep
(will you come to me if I call you?)
You move the ground that's under my feet
And I love the sound when you call me
Look at me
I wanna see you
Better I'm not sure
I know your name I know your face
And I wanna know you well
Let's see

If I see the light when I'm falling asleep
Will I come to life if you call me
You move the ground that's under my feet
And I love the sound when you call me
When you call me
