I'm shaking and aching and talking to the sky
I shiver in the night that I can't sleep
You're dark as the mascara
that drips down from your eyes
Look what you've done to me

You're as dark as the ocean
As cold as the rain
You've got me weak with emotion
You're such a beautiful pain
Such beautiful pain

So I shelter in the wardrobe
And shiver on the stairs
And I slide down in the gutter with the leaves
I tried to talk to God as if he is really there
Look what you've done to me

You're as dark as the ocean
As cold as the rain
You've got me weak with emotion
You're such a beautiful pain

And I cling to my pillow
And scratch at my veins
You kiss like a killer
You're such a beautiful pain
Such a beautiful pain
Such a beautiful pain

As dark as the ocean
As hard as the rain
You've got me weak with emotion
You're such a beautiful pain

And I cling to my pillow
And scratch out my veins
You kiss like a killer
Such a beautiful pain
