One more time

One more time we cross the lines And celebrate this crazy life Past is dying soon has come Electric now what we've begun

And one more time we may shine Like coronas of blazing light Raising hell and rock all night One more time we may shine alright

Alright

One more time to blow these lines And celebrate this crazy life Past is dying soon has come Electric now what we've begun

Alright

Alright
