And from the blackened sky
The creator returns
From his seed the world was born
Now here to undo the tampering of a befouled deity
A species of ingrates shall be cleaved from life to a mere fraction
All those who failed to follow
The dark path of he who created thee
Now banished to pure nonexistence
Betwixed coils of black malevolence
The great serpent aspect rises forth
Boiling seas belch putrid death unto life
And the long mystery of the depths
Rejoins the creation
Spines of dark retribution
Impale the children of Yeshua
Ungrateful swine ignorant of the pearls before them
And from the molten fire of never ending torments
Comes forth the beast of furious inferno
Blazing up into the sky
From mouths of flame he reclaims his throne of burning souls
And within this, the skeletons of the children of Yeshua
Find once more purity long lost
And the number is reckoned on this eve
All endings have beginnings and once more gone Where purity was once hidden and silence was banished
Both return now to reign forever more
