He's got a shallow a heart, she's still drowning.
Just like a fallen star, or this airplane.
Open your eyes before its too late,
He's in disguise with only one thing on his mind,
One thing on his mind.

I know that its all you've ever wanted,
Tell me is this something you need?
You know he won't be there in the morning,
Sometimes things aren't what they seem,
Sometimes things aren't what they seem... YEAH!

He's got a pair of tight jeans and dark sunglasses.
Like a rollingstone the girls can't have him.
Open your eyes before its too late.
He's in disguise, with one thing on his mind.
One thing on his mind.

I know that its all you've ever wanted,
Tell me is this something you need?
You know he won't be there in the morning,
Sometimes things aren't what they seem,
Sometimes things aren't what they seem... YEAH!

I know that its all you've ever wanted,
Tell me is this something you need?
You know he won't be there in the morning,
Sometimes things aren't what they seem,
Sometimes things aren't what they seem.
