how can you look into her world and say i love you when you don't even know what love is love's not lust or a quick surge of blood trying to prove you're a man tonight love is patient love is kind true love puts itself upon the line people say that love is blind love will last through the test of time love is not infatuation love is not a tool love is more than fleeting emotion love won't die
love is humility loving the enemy
love is eternity
love won't die
